Bonniers Konsthall is located in the midst of central Stockholm, just a stone's throw from St. Eriksplan. The art gallery of 1000 square metres occupies the entire street level in the pointed building, designed by Johan Celsing. The bright and modern architecture has windows in three directions, and offers a fantastic environment for tailoring events in our premises.

We organize everything from breakfast meetings and conferences to dinners and parties. There is also the opportunity to create unique experiences in connection with the contemporary art.

CATERING

Our newly built café, designed by the architect's office Tham & Videgård, offers catering for your event. There are a number of menus to choose from adapted to the season, and naturally, they can be tailored based on your wishes.

Cecilia Carreon is head chef at the art gallery.

“After seeing sunrises in Antarctica, crossing the Atlantic, baking bread in full storm, convincing naysayers that new food is good food, and turning an 18th century mansion into a vibrant place filled with laughter and joy, I am now happy to take on a new adventure by setting up a brand-new café at Bonniers Konsthall.”
